HUMANITARIAN CRISIS IN LIBYA & RESPONSE OF İHH

A serious humanitarian crisis occurred in Libya following the people's uprising on 21st February. İHH Humanitarian Relief Foundation's emergency aid teams which reached to country right after the erupted events are still continuing to conduct relief works in the country.

İHH emergency aid teams are providing daily meal, medicine and medical care and distributing food packages to the deprived people in Tobruk, Derna, al Bayda, Ajdabiya and Benghazi cities of Libya and on the Libyan-Tunisian border and inside Egypt.

İHH provided aid to Libya that totally costs 1,000,000.00 (one million) US Dollars under the campaign of "Help Libya Now!" İHH will deliver humanitarian aid supply that has been loaded on a ship which set sail from the port of Izmir city and is now on its way to Libya. Another ship is under process of preparation that will set sail soon...

İHH also started a relief work for the treatment of the wounded who have been affected by the humanitarian crisis. The wounded who cannot possibly be cured in Libya are being brought to Turkey for a sufficient medical care. After the feasibility studies of the İHH aid teams and doctors, İHH has shifted 12 wounded from Libya to Alexandria, Egypt from where they flew to Istanbul, Turkey accompanied by a Libyan doctor. The Foundation is planning to bring more wounded in coming days.

There is still a strong possibility of the people, who are currently under the conflict line in Libya, accumulate to the Libyan-Tunisian border. İHH emergency aid team is standing readily on the ground for a new wave of immigrants. The tent city that has been built by İHH will be turned into a mobile clinic and used for medical treatment in case of need. Moreover, around 3,000 people are being provided meal by the Foundation at the border along with other activities.
